Recycling and second life

What to do with your tee when you're done with it.

Updated November 17, 2026 ·

Keep it in use

- Pass it on, sell it or donate it if it's still wearable.
- Small holes and loose seams are easy to mend.

Recycle it

- Take it to a textile collection point or a clothing bank.
- Don't put textiles in your household waste or in the recycling bin.

What it's made of 60% organic cotton and 40% recycled polyester. Recyclers sort blends like this one separately, so keep the care label on.
